Uke Can Do It 2!: Classroom Ukulele Method

Synopsis

Written and designed by a classroom music teacher and co-published by NAfME, Uke Can Do It 2! student method book teaches ukulele to beginners while using it as a tool for developing music literacy. With a combination of over 80 carefully sequenced exercises and popular songs in a leveled format, the book provides the multiple opportunities to learn each skill that classroom music students and teachers need in developing a solid foundation for lifelong music making. Suitable for beginners age 7 to adult, within a school setting or without, no prior knowledge of the ukulele or music notation is required. Special features of the book include "play-along" chord charts for popular songs recorded in the same key by artists including: The Beatles, B.B. King, Flatt & Scruggs, The Lumineers, Bob Marley, Willie Nelson, The Rolling Stones...and more! Full lead sheet notation (melody, lyrics, and chords) is included for traditional songs including: Aloha 'Oe, Alouette, Amazing Grace, Brahms' Lullaby, Everybody Loves Saturday Night, Go Tell Aunt Rhody, London Bridge, Merrily We Roll, When the Saints Go Marching In.

Customer Reviews

Uke Can Do It 2!: Classroom Ukulele Method is the perfect companion to a ukulele program in the general music setting. The layout, material and musical examples are right in line with what we want students to learn and the students are having a wonderful time while they become musically literate. I highly recommend this book for anyone starting a ukulele program in their school." (Alison Tramontana, elementary classroom music teacher, Comsewogue School District, Port Jefferson Station, NY)

Philip Tamberino is an elementary music teacher who developed the first classroom ukulele programs in the New York metro area and has since conducted professional development for the National Association for Music Education, the New York State School Music Association, and area colleges and schools to promote the use of the ukulele as a school instrument. He is also the author of Uke Can Do It!: Developing Your School Ukulele Program and the founder of the website UKE Can Do It!, currently the largest network of school ukulele teachers on the Internet.

I am a middle school music teacher and one of my first purchases when I was hired was to buy ukuleles. I searched all over the internet and found many books geared towards small children, but this book is perfect for middle school students and for group lessons. I love how it is divided into 4 levels, each level introduces important concepts, students are given opportunities to create their own music, and most songs have helpful hints to make the learning process stress free. Highly recommended for students at any age who want to learn and play right away!
