Strategy in the Contemporary World brings together world leading experts to provide a comprehensive introduction to the role of military power in today’s world. The definitive textbook on the subject, the fifth edition explores both the enduring and historical issues which have shaped the study of strategy and the contemporary issues that dominate today’s headlines. The new edition has been substantially updated to reflect the changing structure of global politics and rapid technological developments, with the inclusion of four brand new chapters: History of the Practice of Strategy, Geopolitics and Grand Strategy, Strategy and Defence Planning, and Theory and Practice of Continental Warfare. The team of leading contributors expose readers to a diversity of perspectives and voices, and in each chapter a debate box is employed to explore the opposing arguments around key controversies. The text is accompanied by an Online Resource Centre, which includes: For students: Reinforce understanding and go beyond the textbook by reading case studies of contemporary conflicts. Follow the web links to explore different theoretical debates, important treaties, and working papers. For adopting lecturers: Use PowerPoint slides to help support your lecture preparations. Assess students’ learning with our ready-made test bank, which can be customized to meet your teaching needs.

John Baylis is Emeritus Professor and formerly Head of the Department of Politics and International Relations and Pro-Vice Chancellor at Swansea University. James J. Wirtz is Professor of National Security Affairs at the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California. Colin S. Gray is Professor of International Politics and Strategic Studies at the University of Reading.

Excellent book for a student in National Security. The only concern I had was that one entire chapter disappeared between the 4th and 5th editions - a chapter on Homeland Security.

A strategic studies best seller.
