Men's Lacrosse In Maryland: (Sports)

Synopsis

Spring in Maryland means one thing: lacrosse. As much a part of the state as crab cakes and the Chesapeake Bay, lacrosse is king at every level, from youth rec and club to high school, college and the pros. Since the state first fielded teams in the 1870s, Marylanders have played with a unique combination of finesse, speed and passion. The Maryland style of play built a long line of national powerhouses at all levels. With extensive research and dozens of photographs, journalist Tom Flynn traces the long history of the sport in Maryland from its Native American roots to its first arrival in the state and on to the modern highlights. Fans will rediscover their many past champions and gain a glimpse of teams that promise to elevate the sports status as the pride of the Old Line State.

Tom Flynn is a long-time freelance journalist and has written extensively on sports. His work has appeared in the Baltimore Sun, Washington Post, Wall Street Journal and the New York Times, as well as online for the American Sports Network. In 2008 he wrote Baseball in Baltimore, a photo history of the sport in the city. In 2015 Venable Park, a novel of 1920s Baltimore, was published by Loyola University Maryland. Flynn is a former college baseball player and currently a college lacrosse assistant coach.

Insightful. Comprehensive.

Syracuse would have made it in if they were in Maryland....but out of what's left there are some great teams and I also liked the photos of some of the older teams. 'Lax in New York' should be published soon, but I like this one...

I got this book early and was very impressed with the level of research combined with the great personal writing style and awesome images. I like that it covers the full scope of history from big programs to small.

I got this book early, and like it a lot. Plenty of great photos and some interesting stuff about Hopkins' lacrosse's founding that I didn't know about. Liked the Boys' Latin section, too

Really enjoyed Baseball in Baltimore and as a Loyola graduate really enjoying this one. Go greyhounds'
