The Harbinger: The Ancient Mystery That Holds The Secret Of America's Future

Synopsis

Is it possible... That there exists an ancient mystery that holds the secret of America's future? That this mystery lies behind everything from 9/11 to the collapse of the global economy? That ancient harbingers of judgment are now manifesting in America? That God is sending America a prophetic message of what is yet to come? Before its end as a nation, there appeared in ancient Israel nine specific warnings and omens of national destruction – These same nine Harbingers are now manifesting in America with profound ramifications for America's future and end-time prophecy. Hidden in an ancient biblical prophecy from Isaiah, the mysteries revealed in The Harbinger are so precise that they foretell recent American events down to the exact days… the 3,000-year-old mystery that revealed the exact date of the stock market collapse of 2008… the ancient prophecy that was proclaimed from the floor of the US Senate and then came true…and more. The revelations are so specific that even the most hardened skeptic will find it hard to put down. Though it sounds like the plot of a Hollywood thriller – IT's REAL. The prophetic mysteries are factual but revealed through a riveting narrative the reader will find hard to put down. The Harbinger opens with the appearance of a man burdened with a message he has received from a mysterious figure called The Prophet. The Prophet has given him nine seals, each containing a message about America's future. As he tells of his encounters with the Prophet, from a skyscraper in New York City, to a rural mountaintop, to Capitol Hill, to Ground Zero, the mystery behind each seal is revealed. As the story unfolds, each revelation becomes another piece in a larger and larger puzzle, the ramifications of which are, even now, altering the course of America and the world.

I enjoyed the premise of the story, however, I didn't particularly care for the continual repetition or drawn out conversations where it took continuous attempts for the reporter to come to a conclusion that had already been told to him. This seems to be the way this author writes as I'm reading the non-fiction book that is the basis of this book and he continually does the same thing in it too. It seemed to me that he made the reporter look like an idiot. How much information do you need to be spoon fed repeatedly before you start to figure out that you've already been given the answer at the beginning of the conversation? I think the writer has the right information, but I'm not sure if he is the one that should have written it. As he said in the story, the prophets had someone wrote down what they said.

I enjoyed reading this book and learning some thought-provoking history from it. I read it on the recommendation of a Christian friend, along with several reviews and some comments on a few reviews. Apparently the book is controversial to some because the author presents God's warning to Israel in Isaiah 9:10 as also a direct warning to the USA. The theological controversy surrounding that does not concern me. Whether the quoted verse foretells future events in the USA or not, and whether the supporting material represents coincidence or divine intervention, it nevertheless presents a valuable lesson for America: Return to God if you are to continue to be so richly blessed. It's also interesting stuff. While parts of the book are repetitious, much of the material was new and fascinating to me, especially in the last half of the book. I found the parts about St. Paul's Chapel particularly so. It's also amazing (or maybe not) that highly placed politicians have blithely quoted Scripture without bothering to check context even one or two sentences before or after, and therefore didn't have a clue what they were actually saying in their speeches. I suppose the positive to that is at least they were still willing to occasionally use a passage from the Bible in recent times. The book is written as a fictional story about a writer who meets a prophet. However, the historical material presented within the story is, according to the author, fact, and the book has many reference notes. The few things I took the time to check were true. Personally, I did not feel that the author was making the controversial claims alleged in some reviews. I recommend reading the book, taking its lesson to heart, and deciding for yourself whether the controversy is important or not.

George Santayana said, "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it." Israel was repeatedly warned through its prophets, natural disasters, and enemy attacks to repent of its sins. But it didn't. Eventually the roof came crashing in. Quite literally in 70 A.D. Jonathan Cahn has done a remarkable job of weaving a prophetic scripture into a story line that will keep you up at night. The correlations between Israel and the U.S. are astonishing. Both countries were blessed by God in a unique way. Both overcame great odds to become a nation. And both rose to great power. Unfortunately, both countries also forgot who made them great--the Lord God. There is still time for the U.S. to repent, but time is short. Let's hope that Americans wake up to the reality that this great country called American can also be destroyed as Israel once was.

There are parts that can drive you insane, the constant need to clarify what is being said more than once. Still a great read and will make you stop and think that perhaps all of this "progress" in the world, isn't really progress at all.

I was intrigued from the very beginning and found it hard to set the book down until I finished it. It is thought provoking and made me study more while reading this book. A must read for all, believers and non believers.

There is a set of Spiritual Laws that govern the universe just as there are Physical ones like gravity and the law of lift. It matters not whether God chose you or you chose God or whether The Harbinger is 100% accurate. What matters is that when a nation follows the spiritual laws of God they prosper and are lifted up and when they ignore God and follow man's arrogance, they suffer and fall. If they have never known God or fight against Him, they look like Indonesia, Afghanistan or Haiti. God said " I set before you life and death, blessings and curses, light and darkness -- Choose. We do that everyday with our laws, actions and allegiances. Cahn's book does an excellent job of showing a parallel of two nations experiencing the effects of those Spiritual Laws in action -- they always work the same way (God is the same yesterday, tomorrow, and forever). Israel AND AMERICA rose and fell based on their attention to God. Our founders gave God and His principles of government first place in the creation of our nation and we have certainly been lifted up. We have also paid the price for the darkness of slavery and periods of turning away from Him with previous judgments like the Great Depression, the Civil War, 9/11, and the current financial disasters. We asked God to leave our schools, our families, our government, and our court rooms -- HE DID. Attacks on Christians and Christianity are becoming commonplace in our country. Our Government vilifies those "holding on to their Bibles". The Harbinger details how our shield of protection has been removed by our choices and will continue to be down until we honor the spiritual laws of Light (God) versus Darkness (Satan). I pray that every member of Congress and every voter read this book and be reminded of THE greatest wisdom available to man -- God's Word. It's an easy, fast read and clearly reveals the undeniable danger America is in today. I am recommending this book to all my friends and acquaintances. I only hope The Harbinger shakes America to repentance!
