The Greatest Dunk Of All

Synopsis

Bobby loves the game of basketball. Much to his delight, everyone in town refers to him as The Basketball Boy. Though he has refined many of the games skills, he yearns to grow enough so that he may be able to dunk one day. Discover the wonderful way in which that dream is realized when Bobby unexpectedly experiences The Greatest Dunk of All. Kentucky native Randy Chapman uses his favorite sport to weave the moving tale of a young boys acceptance of Jesus. The surprising twist at the end provides a golden opportunity for parents, grandparents, and other adults in youth leadership roles an easy storyline for transitioning to Christian discussions with young people.

Customer Reviews

Our church took the Spanish version of this book on a mission trip to Rosarita Mexico. We used this book at the children's vacation bible school. The children were over joyed and showed constant interest in the story. When it was over each child received a copy and several of the parents wanted additional copies to take with them. Very well written and age appropriate book. I would recommend this book for every parent or children's Sunday school teacher who wants to teach their child/children about baptism.

I purchased this book for my nine year old grandson. You know the one who is learning every kind of sport and loves basketball. His Easter basket contained Randy's book and he sat right down and read it Easter morning. Right away he wanted to call his cousin and share the book. If you have a child, grandchild, neighbor recently baptized, or one that has been introduced to the love of Jesus. Please share this book. Hopefully Randy will continue to use his gift and continue to share God's word with our future. God Bless

I purchased multiple copies for the players on my youth basketball team. The next practice the kids were talking about the book and asking questions. The story brought them in and kept their attention while setting the stage for a very important message. An excellent gift idea for a young sports minded person to inspire and motivate them spiritually and athletically.
