Walking Wounded (Vietnam #5)

Synopsis

Morris, Rudi, Ivan, and Beck were best friends. So when one of them was drafted into the Vietnam War, the others signed up, too. They promised to look out for one another. They pledged to come home together. Now, that pledge has been broken. One of the four has been killed in action. And the remaining three are the only men alive who know the awful truth about their friend's death. Each is left to deal with their secret in his own way. One of them will accompany his friend's body home to Boston. One of them will defy orders in an act of protest. And one of them will decide it's up to him to single-handedly win the war. In the end, Vietnam may claim more than their lives. As the war grinds on, their very souls are at stake. And their shattered friendship will prove either their salvation... or their ruin.

Gr 5 Up "Four best friends all sign up to fight during the Vietnam War. Though they promise to come home together, one friend doesn't survive and the remaining three must grapple with the truth about his death. The narrative switches among the various first person perspectives—even that of Rudi's ghost. A haunting and unsettling series that tempers the violent aspects of war just enough for the audience, without sacrificing the bitter and heartbreaking emotional truths. --This text refers to the Hardcover edition.

Praise for Chris Lynch's Vietnam: "The best Vietnam War novels yet for this age range." -- Kirkus

Reviews"Lynch brilliantly captures the war in small details." -- Booklist"So vivid, the reader will feel the stickiness of the heat and... hear the buzzing of mosquitoes." -- Voice of Youth Advocates"A fine balance of thoughtfulness and gritty action." -- Bulletin of the Center for Children's Books"Lynch delivers an action-packed examination of the bonds and trials of friendship." -- School Library Journal"It makes you wonder how you would have acted in those situations... Recommended." -- Library Media
