A Short Tale About A Long Dog, No. 2 (Here's Hank)

Synopsis

Here's Hank stars the same Hank as in the bestselling Hank Zipzer series, only this time he's in 2nd grade! Hank is a kid who doesn't try to be funny, but he somehow always makes the kids in his class laugh. He's pretty bad at memorizing stuff, and spelling is his worst subject. (But so are math and reading!) In the second book in this new series, Hank has finally persuaded his dad to get the family a dog, and Hank couldn't be more excited! Mesmerized by a little wiener dog chasing his tail (making him look like a Cheerio) at the animal shelter, Hank declares him to be the new Zipzer dog. But when Cheerio gets loose in the park, Mr. Zipzer furiously announces that the dog must go. Can Hank convince his father that he wasn't the one who let Cheerio off his leash, or will he really lose his new pet and best friend?

Henry Winkler is an actor, producer, and director, and he speaks publicly all over the world. In addition, he has a star on Hollywood Boulevard, was knighted by the government of France, and the jacket he wore as the Fonz hangs in the Smithsonian Museum in Washington, D.C. But if you ask him what he is proudest of, he would say, "Writing the Hank Zipzer books with my partner, Lin Oliver." He lives in Los Angeles with his wife, Stacey. They have three children named Jed, Zoe, and Max, and two dogs named Monty and Charlotte. Charlotte catches a ball so well that she could definitely play outfield for the New York Mets. Lin Oliver is a writer and producer of movies, books, and television series for children and families. She has written over twenty five novels for children, and one hundred episodes of television. She has produced four movies, many of which are based on children's books. She is cofounder and executive director of the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators, an international organization of twenty thousand authors and illustrators of children's books. She lives in Los Angeles with her husband, Alan. They have three sons named Theo, Ollie, and Cole. She loves tuna melts, curious kids, any sport that involves a racket, and children's book writers everywhere.

This is a great chapter series for beginning to moderate readers. My 3rd grade daughter is always looking for chapter books that keep her interested and that are not too advanced for her AR testing. She (and I) find Hank so sweet and enduring. She really relates to his struggles and always trying to fit in. I highly recommend them!

My daughter has dyslexia and she really identifies with Hank. Even though Hank doesn't know he has a learning disability she really sees the similarities with her and him. The stories are funny and age appropriate. She is a reluctant reader and she will sit and read these. I hope they write more adventures of 2nd grade Hank!

My grandson has had difficulty reading so I bought 2 of the Hank books for him. He really enjoys this book and is reading so much better. Thank you Henry Winkler. These books are making a huge difference in my grandson's self confidence and his ability to read. Because he is reading better, all of his school subjects are improving. I will continue to buy these books for him.

My first grader really enjoyed this book!! It contains a lot of words he doesn't yet know and he is an above average reader (although he doesn't love to read). I read a few lines out loud to him and then he reads the same lines back to me (which I just learned in a summer reading class I took with him this past, is very beneficial when the words are at least of moderate difficulty). This has worked well and I'm happy to say that he was so excited to move on to the next chapter that he would get the book off the shelf on his own, without prompts from me! This was our first real "chapter" book and this author made it an enjoyable and smooth transition!!

These books have been an amazing confidence builder for our son

Love this series of books! Thank you, thank you Henry Winkler & Lin Oliver for the series and the Dyslexie font! As a volunteer in a 2nd grade reading class, I found that this series offers so much encouragement for young readers who have dyslexia to read. They loved the story. It was easier for them to read and It made us all chuckle at Hank's antics! .

My granddaughter has dyslexia and she finished on of the books in this series. That's the first time she has wanted to read a book. I got her the whole Here's Hank series.

My grandson is a reluctant reader and school recommended a scheduled reading time over the summer. His teacher mentioned the 'Here's Hank' series. He has read the first wanted to start the second. He enjoys the story and his reading fluency has improved. .
