Careers In International Law

Synopsis

Irrespective of your age, experience, nationality, residence, education or practice area, this new edition is a valuable guide for law students and lawyers interested in finding, maintaining, or moving into a career in international law. The book provides new insight into how to use your imagination, creativity, and savvy to find that elusive job in the field of international law including the scope of possibilities in specialties such as litigation, trade, corporate, transactional, banking, financial, and maritime law, as well as positions in teaching, going in-house, and pro bono work. Providing dynamic tips and strategies, as well as perspectives and methodology for success, the book includes guidance on:

- How to prepare for a career in international law;
- The road to an international in-house legal career;
- Going from solo practitioner to international lawyer;
- Using the Internet to develop a small-firm international law practice;
- Networking effectively;
- Creative strategies for launching and growing your international law practice; and
- Much more!

Salli Anne Swartz has practiced international business law in Paris since 1979. She began her career in Paris with the Paris-based law firm of S.G. Archibald where she specialized for over four years in ICC arbitrations of turn-key constructions projects in the Middle East. Ms. Swartz then joined the French firm of Simeon Moquet Borde where she acquired broad corporate law experience and was the head Anglo-Saxon attorney on several major acquisitions and joint ventures between American and French companies. She subsequently practiced with Price Waterhouse, before founding Masson Piron Swartz Beaucourt & Associés in 1988.
